ALTA SuperFlex Knee Pads

ALTA Knee Pads are designed with tactical operators in mind. ALTA Knee pads are offered either with a Velcro strap or buckle system. The buckle system provides an "easy on, easy off" feature that provides a more secure fastening system and minimizes strap readjustment. The buckle system also works better in snowy or really dirty environment because debris does not catch in the Velcro. The unique buckle attachment is fully adjustable and designed for long wear and lasting comfort. Black rubber cap allows user to grip the kneeling surface without sliding. Made with DuPont Cordura® Nylon.

Centurion™ Shin Guard by Hatch

The TS65 Centurion™ hard-shell shin guard is an essential piece of equipment for tactical or crowd-control situations. It is a Hatch original design that features a built-in knee pad similar to the one found in our KP250. The hard polycarbonate shell shin protector with interior leg brace support can safely withstand a substantial blow to the leg from non-ballistic weapons or flying debris. Also included is an adjustable or removable foot protector. The unit fastens with three Velcro® spandex closures on the backside of the leg for a complete secure fit.

- All black, non-reflecting
- Polycarbonate hard-shell shin portion
- Adjustable or removable foot protector
 - Interior leg brace support
- Three Velcro® closures for secure fit
- Each pair is packed in a nylon gear bag for storage
